

PRIVACY POLICY

Previous warning

Navigation on the Transinsular website is governed by the following terms and conditions, which the visitor or user undertakes to respect in full. If you do not agree to these terms and conditions the visitor or user should not use this website.

Privacy and security policy

Transinsular is concerned about your privacy and protects the information that is transmitted to you. Transinsular establishes compliance with the principles of legislation and data protection, respecting all national laws and regulations.

This website aims to communicate general information about Transinsular and its professional activity.

On this website links are available which may lead to other websites for the convenience of users. However, Transinsular is not responsible, approves or in any way supports or subscribes to the formal content of these websites, nor the websites linked or referred to in them.

Transinsular is not liable to any users of this website for any damages arising from the use or disclosure of the information contained therein.

Descriptive nature

The contents contained in this website are of a purely informative, non-commercial nature, which are intended, but not guaranteed, correct and up to date.

Cookies

A Cookie is a data file, used on some websites, which when visited witness a connection to the analysis of the effectiveness of the design and publicity of the website and verifies the identity of its users. The only personal information that a cookie may contain is the one that the user provides, whose use must be authorized by the user. A cookie cannot read data from your hard disk or read other cookies created by other websites.

Exclusion of Liability

Transinsular shall not be liable for any errors, delays or interruptions in access to information on this website due to circumstances beyond its control.

Transinsular disclaims any responsibility for any defect or virus malfunction of the equipment or any other software, as a result of access to or use of this website.

Transinsular is not responsible for the operation or unavailability of this website.

Transinsular disclaims responsibility for the incorrect use of this website;

Transinsular rejects the imputation of claims from third parties related to the use of this website.

Information Protection

All intellectual property rights relating to the content of this website are the exclusive and reserved title of Transinsular.

The user is not authorized to transmit, distribute, publish, modify, sell or use in any way the information, including images, contained in this website.

Content on this website is protected by copyright. Transinsular does not authorize the permanent copy, in whole or in part, and in any way, of the content of this website, nor the placement of links to this site in other sites, without the prior written consent of Transinsular. You are only authorized to access and download the content of these pages and to store a copy on a temporary basis solely for the purpose of viewing it.

Personal Data

Navigation on this website does not necessarily imply the provision of personal data, but when this happens, the privacy of the user is safeguarded. However, an online application form is available on this website, in which you are requested to provide and fill in personal data, and it is used in accordance with the terms of the form. When personal data are provided, the respective treatment is ensured under the terms of Regulation nº (EU) 2016/679 European Parliament and Council, 27th April 2016 (General Regulation on Data Protection/RGPD). By using the form mentioned above, the user is giving his consent to the collection and processing of information of a personal nature under the terms of the referred EU Regulation.

For any questions regarding the processing of your data, please contact Transinsular at the following address:

Transportes Marítimos Insulares, S.A.
Gonçalves Zarco Building
Doca de Alcântara (North Side)
1399-015 LISBOA
Phone: 211 128 000 (Geral)
Fax: 211 128 408/12
Email: transinsular@transinsular.pt

Other General Provisions

Transinsular shall not be liable for damages resulting from viruses that may damage the computer operating system or the user's network or other property, as a result of accessing the Transinsular website with the transfer of contents from it to the user's computer or network.

Transinsular reserves the right, at any time and without prior notice, to change these terms and conditions.

Applicable law

This website and this legal information will be governed and interpreted by the Portuguese Law. Disputes arising out of or relating to this information will be resolved by the Portuguese Courts expressly waiving any other.